ADVERTISING IS AN INVESTMENT
The Royal Bank of Canada has written some a-b-c rules for advertising, rephrasing in a simple language for the layman these fundamentals familiar language for the layman tueso indusamenta's landing to every advertising mai:

1. Advertising is an investment, not a speculation.
Cambles in advertising, followed by disappointment and retreachment, are wasteful. They upset the economic equilibrium.

Advertising is fruitless if the advertiser does not offer something that will genuinely serve some human want.

3. Do not expect overwhelming returns in the way of sales from the first ad or two. Advertising does not work that way. It deposits in the mental storehouse of the prospect impression after impression multi be has a well-defined picture of the product and the service it will perform for him.

the service it will perform for min.

4. The business executive is headed for disappoint, ment if he satisfies his ego merely by matching the competitor's advertising appropriation dollar for dollar, or even by topping it. Not the size of the appropriation, but the quality of advertising is important.

It is not too often that this situation crops up and when it does it would be wise to alter the dates of municipal nominations and elections so as to give aspiring candidates every benefit to be had from large nominating meetings and full election day turnouts.

nominating meetings, and tun election tag variables.
Unfortunately the time for doing this has passed in Lindsay but the effect of the decision to let things at and should be studied carefully to determine whether or not it was a wise one to make for future reference.

WHY FOLLOW PRECEDENT

WHY FOLLOW RECEDENT

That's the question the Royal Bank's current Monthly Letter asks this month in a timely commentary on the approaching New Year. Readers may enjoy considering the challenge to get out of the rut of embarking on the New Year in the same old way by seeking security through being respectful to the Ghosts

'Advent of a New Year for some reason has the effect of throwing our minds backward in time", writes the Letter. "In a burst of making up for the sorrows of the past and smothering the memories of its mis-takes we indulge in a brief orgy of fun. Then we get down to the somewhat more grim business of looking

"This Monthly Letter is frankly a plea that we stride into 1950 with our faces forward, instead of backing into it with our eyes on the way things were done in the past."

"Our inclination is (we might as well admit that we are lazy-minded people) to follow precedent, to to what's been done before."

do what's been done before."
"But lots of people in the past decided not to, and that's why living is so much better today than it was 40, or 4,000 years ago. That's why we have gadgets and jigs to make work easier, books to make gadgets and jigs to make work easier, books to make bearing easier, motorships and automobiles and planes to make it easier too gate. The planes and profits of it all."

"The sad thing is that precedent often gets to work before its coming is recognized. There are parts of our human makeup which lean toward habits; we are lasy about the reworking of a problem once solved, and we do our utmost to make an ids solution solved, and we do our turnest to make an our solution if it a new problem. We are fascinated by the prospect of saving time and energy and thought by doing tasks in a routine way. We like the "security" (as we call the other parts of the call the other past procedent just what will be done next."

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING AT HOME . . .

With only a matter of three more weeks until Christma, everyone is busy figuring out what to give for a remembrance and when they get theil lists made out they'll be starting out to shop in earnest. That's what this message is about - - - Christmas

In recent months the Post has been carrying a series of articles entitled "Looking in the Windows" as a courtesy service to Lindsay merchants and in an endeavor to stimulate the interest of readers in their emdeavor to stimulate the interest of readers in their home-town shops. It has been revealing to note as these articles have appeared, the very high calibre of retail outlets which are at the service of Lindsay people. The stores of Lindsay are well stocked with veryphing desirable in the way of Christmas gifu and it would be in the best interests of the Town's pref-perity if everyphe trief to leave as many of their perity if everyone thed to leave as many of their Christmas shopping dollars at home as possible. Lindsay merchants contribute much to the up-keep of the town—they employ Lindsay people and

LESS NOISE PLEASE ! LESS MOISE PLEASE!
It's a noisy world we live in and its inhabitants may be thankful that there is a faction at work trying to induce people to live more quietly. Without this element striving for reduction in the amount of noise mankind is bent on creating it is hard to tell just how evaluerant the human element might become with all e noise making at its disposal in this mechanical age.

Recognizing the need for still greater efforts to curb man's noisy ambitions, the Globe and Mail brands them as "Anti-Social". It writes:

"Mechanical progress may reach a climax when the psychological hazards arising from its noise begin the psychological matatics arising from it above logic to outweigh the material convenience it provides. Child-ren who do their home-work with the radio going full blast are showing some signs of adapting themselves to the new condition. But mankind's capacity for further evolutionary adaptation is limited; and it is doubtful whether we can develop a satisfactory defense against noisy disturbances before the progress of mech.

anical cacophony renders us deaf."

"Automobiles, for instance, are recognized as being daugerous machines, even when operating most quietly. An operator who drives with his horn instead of his brains intensifies the danger of this type of transport. He creates an additional daylight hazard no less dangerous than the glare of high headlight no less dangerous tanh the gaze on mgr adeutingth beams at night. The indiscriminate claims of some street car goings defeats the own princes. It becomes a continuing nulmane instead of a reasonable warning. Two often are not to transfer their own repositions of the proposition fic in front of them."

Then there is the telephone addict who canmote remember numbers, but calls four or five wrong

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

Recently a man who was a resident of Toronto 50 years ago died in a rural community east of this city. His passing raises the question in the minds of those wife a free when we will be a second or the second of t

Its success something more than the winning of wealth, tame, giory, power or pre-eminence in any aspect of human endeavor; these things separately or in unusual combination?

or in unusual comminations. This man was a machinist and a good one. He was an expert in the sharpening of saws, and people came to him from far and wide to get the benefit of his skill. When he was a young married man his brother died of tuberculosis, and the doctors told him he was threathend with the same disease and should, change the second size and his olders to nature.

These four persons, the parents and the son and daughter, interested themselves a every form of community welfare. They generously supported the church and the school and gave personal service freely. The daughter played the church organ and the son was active in young people's work. The son married and adopted two children.

When this man at a ripe old age was called to the unseen world a week or two ago no one spoke aught but good of his name. He had always been decent, kindly and tolerant and a good neighbor. Nearly a dozen of the young men who had associated with him in an organization of less than 30 members a half-century ago, attended his funeral in whole-souled tribute to his worth. In their minds there was no shadow of doubt that their friend had exemplified success in its truest form.—Toronto Star.

HIGHWAY MUST BE BUILT

The project of building a complete Tran-Canada

RUSY AS A BEE ?

BUSY AS A BEE?

Next time you are tempted to say you are that busy, W. A. Stephens of North Carolina State, College recommends that you stop and consider how much busining and fitting about a honeybee really does.

Mr. Stephens finds, by researches we shall not attempt to keep up with, that to produce 10 bushels of red clover seed requires about 150,000,000 individual flower pollinations, and that about four-fittles of these 120,000,000 valies to colover blossonins by bees over perhaps an acre' of hand.

One wonders pow is someone croler, for 3-11 we haps an acre of land.

One wonders now is someone going to tell us with erudits statistics that human beings cannot keep up with beavers. Personally, we have always suspected that these animals, if they had the choice, would rather spend their time snoozing in their island huts than chewing down trees and patting mudbanks into shape with their tails.

into shape with their tails.

The trouble withe honeybee comparison is that it is used by the wrong people. It is claimed by growing when it should be confined to children. Some nursery experimenters a few years ago found that a day following a three-year-old child around and trying to do all the things the child did. That he was was described to the thing the child did. That he would been trying to drop a fleet of clover pollen on the chir of a three-year-old.—Christian Science Monitor

HOW TO BE HAPPY Be up to your ears in things. This is one way to happiness. It doesn't much matter what you are up to your ears in. Bables, ideas, driving a truck, tatting—these are all ways to happiness if you really work

A Deterrent To Crime

A newspaper editor has many headaches and one of the biggest is trying to figure out the best way of the biggest is trying to figure out the best way of the biggest is trying to figure out the best way of handling court news. People who get into trouble don't like to see their names in the paper, which is don't new force of the big factor in making people behave. It would be easy if the situation could be feast with by just leaving out court news. Court stories are follow-ups of polymers, violence and other crimes and carry a of polymers, violence and other crimes and carry a of polymers, by the court news. Court follows the could follow the footness of these in troubles who would follow the footness of these in troubles who would follow the footness.

moral lesson to those who would follow the footsteps of those in trouble.

The reporting of court news also plays an im, portant role in democracy. One need only to look to totalitarian countries to see what can happen in secret courts. Having reporters present, reporting the news, permits public opinion to indge the justice of the law, of rulings and of what is being done in this way needed changes are brought about and pregress is made. In short the reporting of court news is part of the complicated system of democracy which assures protection of the liberty of the individual.

is part of the computated system of democracy which assures protection of the liberty of the individual. In the case of juveniles, that is persons under 16, newspapers do not report names. Under certain cir-cumstances special consideration is sometimes given to older first offenders where the crimes are not too serious.

Besides being a protection for society, the reporting of court news serves as an important deterrent to crime.—Orillia News-Letter

WHY THE HURRY TO RAILROAD THROUGH TOWN PLANNING?

THROUGH TOWN PLANNING?
There is too much hurry about the last-minute decision of some members of the 1949 Council to railroad through a Town Planning Bylaw. This matter has been left in abeyance all through the year and there is something suspicious about the belated burst of speed to saddle such a bylaw on the people of Lindsay. Why, many are naturally asking, the need for the sudden urgency? If this matter is so important, shouldn't it have been attended to earlier bylaw which Council proposes to give first The bylaw which Council proposes to give first second and probably third reading to, is essentially the same as the one which was prepared a couple of years ago and rejected by the Council of those days. There have been a few minor changes which appear in the proposed bylaw as published in the Post

This proposed bylaw would provide the means for This proposed byjaw would provide the means lor imposing a number of restrictions on the people of Lindsay in the future. For this reason the public should study it carefully, decide whether or not they want such legislation, and let their members of Restrictions are always easier to impose than they are to get rid of, hence there should be no haste in are to get rid of, hence there should be no naste in imposing them. Plenty of time should be given to the people to be effected by a bylaw such as this to study it fully and then it should be imposed only by popular consent. A vote is called for on any matter of this nature. It is too broad in scope to be decided by a small governing body.

DECEMBER is here and with it lurks the "common cold" Ontario citizens are reminded now of a few simple helpful rules to safeguard their health, and that of others.

Prevention of the common cold is the responsibility of all, and if everyone plays his part much unnecessary illness, expense and discomfort may be avoided. With the holiday season looming thead, when so much happiness depends on everyone feeling fit, why run the risk of "catching cold"—or letting members of your family face that danger?

In the interest of parents and families, the Ontario Department of Health recommends every Ontario citizen to study the common sense precautions suggested below and act upon them:

Five Simple Precautions

Take plenty of rest. Avoid becoming unduly tired. Endeavour to follow a well-balanced diet.

Avoid becoming wet, chilled or over-heated. If clothing becomes wet, it should be changed as quickly as possible.

3 If a cold overtakes you, go to bed until it improves. If it does not clear up rapidly, do not hesitate to seek medical advice.

4. Be thoughtful of others: If suffering from a cold, do not spread germs by coughing or sneezing openly.

5. Avoid crowds as far as possible:

No one wants to be "laid up" with a cold::: especially at this holiday time of year. By following these five common-sense precautions you can help yourself and others enjoy a happy, healthy holiday::: free from the seasonal misery of the "common cold".

store window lighting restrictions are sus-pended between the hours of 7:00 p.m. and 12:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, and all day Saturday, December 17th, and Saturday, December 24th.

This temporary suspension of the restrictions on store window lighting during the Christmas shopping period is possible because of arrangements made to divert additional water through the Welland Canal at the close of navigation. This permits increased output at DeCew Falls.

It is essential, however, that all consumers continue to save electricity whenever and wherever possible. This is particularly important during the heavy load periods from 10:00 a.m. to 12 noon and from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

To housewise in a hurry, the telephone means a lot. It's like having an extra pair of hands to help out—an extra pair of feet to run errands, or get help in emergencies. Any way you look at it, your telephone is big value.

No wonder more people are using more telephones— and that requests for service are at an all-time high. We should like to be able to provide service for all who want it, when and where they want it. We will continue to do all we can to reach that goal.

CONCERTS ARE GOOD FOR CHILDREN

This is the season of concerts—Christmas concerts in churches and schools throughout the length and breadth of the nation. Every place from the tinlest hamlet to the largest city will be the setting for these entertainments which feature Yuletide.

Most of use a memonier when we took part in some of these events and for most of us the memory is among our most treasured. The experience was exciting and filled us with a sense of importance we could not attain in any other way. It was with geoulne pride that we received the parental pat on the hock for a piece of acting well done in tasse constable, for the incorporate a Christmas physics or two. Christmas concerts are good for children because they give them a real chance for constructive and the control of the control of

IS LACK OF RAINFALL THE WHOLE REASON?

THE WHOLE REASON?

On every hand these days we hear talk of water shortages in North America. Farmers, blaming a dry summer, report their wells are dry and hydro officials attribute the need for conservation of power partially to a scarcity of water with which to generate it. Then, again, visitors to our lake resorts report rernen, again, visitors to our lake resorts report re-ceding water lines and swampland in many parts is drying up. All these manifestations of a water short-age naturally make people wonder if the problem can be attributed entirely to a lack of rainfall.

It is true that water resources cannot long main-It is true that water resource cannot one man-tain normal levels in the face of drought, but is there not a possibility that more than drought is at work in creating the present water shortage? Could it be that our changing way of life, coupled with an in-creasing population is having the effect of greatly abetting drought in its work of depleting our natu

There is probably nothing to be concerned unduly There is probably nothing to be contended under about in the immediate future but what are the generations to come going to do if they inherit a continent in which the water resources have been reduced to dangerously low levels. For the sake of our sons and daughters, we should determine, if possible, the error of our ways and proceed to amend them while there is yet time. If we don't nature may have to force the issue. WOMAN'S CHANCES GOOD IN POLITICS

GOOD IN POLITICS

"Coboury voters turned out in the largest number in the history of the town to cast their ballots in Monday's municipal elections. The weather was mild and clear and it is estimated that at least 70 per cent of the electorate cast their votes. Mrs. Rhema Stephens, newcomer to the town, headed the Council polls, being the first woman to achieve the distinction in Cobourg of receiving the highest num-

This report from Cobourg a few days ago should be encouraging news for any ladies in Lindsay who are contemplating entering the municipal political field this month when the annual nomination meeting rolls around. It would seem that the stars are faprable to this sort of enterprise this year.

There are still a few die-hards who would like There are still a two die-nards who would have to believe that woman is still in bondage to the home and the humble slave of the man of the house. They should give up the idea that women can ever again be enslaved as they were in the dim, but not too

While it is true that many women's first concern must be with the home, this is not to say that her entire time need be spent in doing housework. Modern conveniences have greatly lessened the amount of time needed to accomplish household chores there-by freeing women, in many instances, to pursue other useful endeavours, of which municipal politics is one.

It should be made clear, however, that this paper does not advocate women participating in such work if it will disrupt the necessary management of a home Home and its duties are primary, but where time and circumstance make it feasible, there is no reason wh fectively in municipal politics.

LINDSAY'S SANTA CLAUS STOCKING FUND: HOW IT WORKS AND WHAT IT DOES

The Santa Claus Stocking Fund is an outlet for those who wish to help the genuinely needy and unusual cases in Lindsay and the closer country about the town. For many years its ministrations have been kindly and most timely, helping people when all seemed lost, and getting them back on their feet

Its great effectiveness comes from its immediate action in any orisis. In Lindsay the pinch most often comes in January, February and March, so that addition to seeing that every needy household has a Christmas meal, the Fund is watchful and helpful

A thing that few people know is that the entire intricate burden falls upon the willing and happy shoulders of T. H. Stinson, K. C., who says he obtains most valuable aid in his investigations from Mr. Allan

Blewett. Only after persistent questioning of the various details of the operation of the Fund was it modestly admitted that not a cent goes for this work at all. All receipts are placed in the Bank of at all. All receipts are placed in the Mank of Commerce and at the end of the year a detailed state-ment of expenditures made by Mr. Stinson on be-half of the Santa Claus Stocking Fund is filled with Town Clerk Allely for the Council's or Town's careful Inspection.

Often more money is spent in a year than is received but the better years take care of the deficit. So far in 1949 the Fund overspect and an appeal is being made for a total of $1,000 now. Do you wish to help raise the $100 a day that is required? Any amount large or small will be very welcome. Laster or mail your donation to the Canadam Bank of Commerce, or, if it is more convenient or you, the Daily Feet will be placed to Corward your gift to Santa Claus Stocking Fund.

BE CAREFUL OF FIRE AT CHRISTMAS

It is not too early to suggest that people take extra precautions with inflammable materials at Christmas time. Experience has shown that many Christmas celebrations have become tragedies through the advent of a fire which could have been prevented.

This is a season when many delicately fabricated Touch-And-Go-Capital

FOR THE RECORD:

CONSIDER THIS:

Clause number one of the proposed Town Planning Bylaw reads as follows: "No building in a re-sidential district shall be used otherwise than as a private dwelling, unless such property has been used differently previous to the passing of this bylaw."

This means that if hard times should befall the Town, we could not use our homes to operate a small business in even if we wanted to.

That's what the bylaw says and that is what we would have to abide by if it is allowed to become law in Lindsay. Do you think this is a good restriction to have hanging over your head? Tell Council your to have hanging over your head? Tell C answer! Do it now, before it's too late!

stances these are highly inflammable. tree itself is a potential fire hazard and it is made more so since the custom of adorning it with electrical lighting equipment has become popular.

Actually neither the ornaments, nor the Christmas tree need constitute a fire hazard if they are properly arranged and it electrical lighting equipment is n good working order. The time it will take to use good judgement in placing the Christmas tree and ornaments in a room so as to lessen the danger of fire is well worthwhile . . . . it costs nothing and it may save a lot of trouble. If lighting is being used on the tree only good equipment should be risked.

One thing which should be avoided at all costs is the use of candles for illuminating window de-

LOWER PRICES MAY STRENGTHEN MARKET

STRENGTHEN MARKET

A great deal of concern is being expressed in farming circles about the future prospects of Canada's agricultural accomony as a result of the collapse of the British market. Much of this concern is, of course, prompted by the same people who said the agricultural economy of the country would collapse with the introduction of margaries. Nothing of the light of t

The effect of the loss of the British markets for some of Canada's farm products will likely be to put some necessities of life more within the reach of a some necessities of life more within the reach of a good many people who heretofore could not afford to purchase them. Eggs and most kinds of meat, while essential to a healthy nation, have virtually been on the luxury list in most homes because people could only buy them in limited quantities.

If the price of some staple foods drops in Canada the market will be stabilized again at a more realistic level by reason of the heavier demand at home. Instead of howling about the loss of British markets, the agricultural industry in Canada should re-adjust and concentrate on catering to the needs of Considerance on catering to the recover able prices for most commodities and no one will want to work a hardship on the farmer but prices out of line with the general economy of a country must adjust themselves sooner or later whether they be found in farm products, manufactured materials

JUST ENOUGH GOVERNMENT PRODUCES BEST RESULTS

The man who first invented the clock, took it to the king to get it patented. The king was greatly impressed with the inventor; but he felt it his duty, as the head of the state, to offer some helpful suggestion for improving it.

Being a wise king, he carefully refrained from tampering with the mechanism because he knew instinctively that it would work much better without his help. So he offered a suggestion that he felt sure would do no harm, He suggested that the Roman numeral four on the dial abould be written with four

NO MILITARY SERVICE

It is significant in the changing trend of world affairs that in a recent poll conducted in Germany, 60.2 per cent of those questioned declared that they did not want any more military service under any condition. For years the German youth had been trained to become a soldier and this compulsory training was responsible for many German emigrants making their home on this continent.

It looks as though the strong influence of the other major powers since the war is bringing home to the German people the folly of any future wars.

The German people need to have it impressed upon them that they can live peaceably with the rest of the world if they continue to turn a deaf ear to the rantings of leaders saturated with greed and ideas of conquest.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS

Many of the customs which we observe at Christ-mas have strayed so far from their original meanings that we do not know just where they came from. Few of us know, for instance, that the use of evergreen for decoration was a feature both of the Norse Yuletor accordant was a relative both on the Norse with dide festival which celebrated the return of warmth and vegetation at the Whiter solutice and of the Roman Saturnalia. Holly symbolizes the coming passion of Christ; mistletce (since it depends on the host tree) symbolizes Man's dependence on God. The custom of kissing under the mistletce, incidentally, is supposed to end once the berries have all been plucked and one is supposed to be removed for each tribute exact-ed. Too late to change now, though. The boar's head, which used to be the standard Christmas dish but, has been almost universally replaced by the turkey, symbolizes, among other things, the head of Satan defeated and borne in triumph. It is mentioned sa being part of the bill-of-fare of an English royal banquet in 1170: Christmas trees are referred to as being the custom in Salzburg in 1605 and were introduced into Germany by Luther. Town musicians of "waits," official players of Christmas music, were appointed in London and Westminster as late as 1825 Town musicians or They doubled as nightwatch. -Saturday Night

A Good Time To Decide The Bus Question

In the last municipal election the people of Lindsay In the last municipal election the people of Lindays were anked to decide whether or not they desired a bus service. They voted overwhelmingly in favor of It. Since that time, and after many discouraging mourients, the 1949 Council has been able to have a bus service established in Lindays. As a result to question of a franchise has been raised and, since no bus company can be expected to establish and minimals a service such as this without an agreement of the core of the contraction. this sort, a bus franchise bylaw has been prepared on which a vote will be taken in the 1950 election. This bylaw offers protection both to the bus company and the town, and the eligible voters owe it to themselves to read it over carefully so as to be able to

While some may be inclined to think the vote is a bit premature, the service has been in operation long enough to give them a reasonable idea of what they may expect for the next ten years if they approve the bylaw. Thus the electorate should be in as good a position to decide this issue now as in a year's time. Further delay in putting the matter to vote would seem pointless.

WEEK ENDING DECEMBER 24th

Christmas Again ...

A year has passed since the cheering words "Merry Christmas!" were the greeting of the day and it doesn't seem that long. There is no season in the year which takes so long to roll around for children and yet which comes so quickly for adults and that busy old gent called Santa Claus. And it's because we know our readers, especially those with children, have so little time in which to get ready for this festive season that we're making this Christmas message brief and to the point: Merry Christmas All!

No Peace on Earth in Santa Claus, Indiana; There's Only One Postmark, But Two Santas

SANTA CLAUS CASTLE claims it's real Santa Clause, Ind.

The Night Before Christmas

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky! So up to the housetop the coursers they flew With a sleigh full of toys and Saint Nicholas too.

He was drassed all in fur from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot. A bundle of toys he had flung on his back. And he looked like a peddler fust opening his pack.

His eyes—how they twinkled! His dimples—how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
Ris drell little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow,

RARE CHRISTMAS WEATHER

There's one thing that has given the people in Ontario more to talk about after Christmas this year than the presents they received and that is the kind of weather they enjoyed, or didn't enjoy, over the holiday.

just had two things to contemplate in connection with the weather as Christmas time approached...would the a white or green Christmas? Now, as a result of the unusual spell of weather experienced this Christmas, it will be necessary for future generations to be concerned with a third eventuality — a wet Constitutes.

Thus a two-fold weather worry at this season of the year has, like the rest of modern life's problems, become more complicated until we must be concerned with threefold weather prospects at Yule-tide.

ELECTION

Lindsay Hydro-Electric Commission

We appreciate being given an acciamation in the election of two members to serve on the Lindsay Commission for 1950 and 1951.

We also appreciate the fact that the system belongs to the residents of Lindsay and that we are representing you. We, along with the other members of the Commission, will work at all times to see that the business of the Commission is conducted in the best interests of the residents as a whole.

There is an increase in the cost of power to us, but certainly the rates will not be raised until it is absolutely necessary to keep the system in good condition, and serve the users satisfactorily.

Please accept our thanks for your co-operation in saving power. This is still necessary to prevent further restriction. We hope this is the last Winter in which there will be any shortage, with the large Power Plants on the Ottawa coming into production.

Thanking you, and wishing you a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

UNDER COUNCIL'S CONTROL

There is something to be said in favor of a cer, tain amount of supervision in the orderly development of a town such as Lindsay providing the supervision is of a flexible nature and readily adaptable to changing conditions. The fact that previous town planning proposals in Lindsay seemed to be of a bight's inflexible nature. Such as the control of a highly inflexible nature probably accounts for them not being adopted, despite the fact that those who participated were most sincere in their desire to im-prove the town's development. By the same token, the fact that Mayor Moore has given assurance that flexibility will be the rule and not the exception in the flexibility will be the rule and not the exception in the present proposal to introduce a town planning bytes well probably account for a greater willingness on the part of ratespayers to copporate with the plan. It is not likely, while the Mayor and members of Council keep the reins of Town Planning in their plans, the result of the plans o force for good in the growth of a town. Conditions change and even the most farsighted people cannot foresee what lies ahead. What is suitable in one way today is unsuitable in another way tomorrow, and so it goes. The development of a town and the restrictions employed to mould its form must be subject to the constant change ever-present in a changing a town rather than its development and, administered by other than elected representatives, they can be very

COULD BE ENLARGED UPON
The plan of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests to build a series of concrete dams at strategic points to conserve our dwindling water supplies is a good one. It will no doubt be most effective at points where it is applied but it will not be nearly as effective as it might be if participated in on a larger scale.

In days gone by, every river, creek or very small stream was dammed up at several points along its course. In some instances these dams were of considerable size and the water pressure built up was used for various purposes such as operating grist mills, etc. In other cases they were sometimes naturail dams created by trees falling across a stream and becoming clogged with debris floating downstream, while in still other cases they consisted merely of a 'ting of stones across a shallow stream, not really vitant part in water conservation. However,

A great man is quietly serving you

A wonderful reward comes to those who unselfishly serve others that more than repays them for the efforts entailed. It is a heaven-sent blessing that is thrilling and lasting—a gift beyond price which is complete in itself. This may be part of the explana-tion why people, who are undoubtedly great in their deeds and capacities for kindly thoughtfulness in re deeds and capacities for kindly thoughtfulness in re-lation to their fellow beings, are so retiring and modest. They are honestly surprised that you consider they are doing a wonderful thing in carrying on some dif-ficult project so carefully and successfully. Such a man—a great man—has been carrying on

OTHERS SAY

A SUGGESTION
The suggestion made by Slincoe County Council that legislation should provide that where daylight asying is adopted it should be for a uniform period has much to commend it. This is an entirely dif, ferent thing from either problithing daylight saving or making it compulsory. As a matter of the single or making it compulsory. As a matter of the final mer time, (the much better name in use in Britain) is rapidly becoming general on a voluntary basis.
The period from the beginning of May to the end of September also appears to be most popular, though there are many who would be glad to see the closing date extended to the end of October. When it comes to November people appear to dislike rising in the dark and prefer the darkness in the afternoon.

IN CANADA

The little community of Dresden, in our own county The little community of Dressdeh, in our own towns, of Essex, has made a name for itself. It won the headlines on the front pages of the big city dailies a week or two ago. They did something which, to our knowledge, no other community in Canada has ever done, and which, we may add, no self-respecting community is ever likely to do. Dressden made its aware her without its name amorous to the policy of its community is ever likely to do. Dresden made its name by giving its smug approval to the policy of its restaurant owners in refusing to serve patrons whose skin happens to be black instead of white.

The people of Desden probably are very sorry they live in Canada instead of in Georgia or Mississippi. Down there they could be much happier frolicking bown there they could be much happer froncing in the robes of the Klu. Klux Klan, chasing colored folks off the buses and pushing them off the sidewalks. The occasional lynching would probably amuse them.

We would be very pleased to see those people who voted to keep the negroes out of Dresden restaurants move to the more congenial moral climate of the "Deep South." They would be happier there. Canada would be happier without them. —Rural Cooperator.
